The Russian Colony Alexandrovka is an idyllic place in the heart of the city. This place was created in 1826 at the request of Frederick William III. In memory of his friend tsar Alexander I, you can still feel the Russian culture.
THE CITY WALK
STROLLING THROUGH THE HISTORIC CITY CENTRE

This City walk leads through Potsdam’s city centre and it will seem like a hike through different eras of time. Green oases and historic places invite you to take a break. Stroll to the island Freundschaftsinsel and be astounded when you see the reconstructed Old Market. The tour leads you through the Dutch Quarter via square Bassinplatz. In the Brandenburger Strasse and its side streets you will discover inviting shops and cosy cafés. When you have some time left, you could also explore the Russian Colony Alexandrovka as well as the Sanssouci Palace and Park. For a different perspective of Potsdam finish your day with a relaxing boat trip along the banks of the river Havel.

The cycling tour ‘Old Fritz’ takes you through the history of Frederikan Potsdam. Immerse yourself in the magic of world-famous palaces and parks that allow you to experience bygone eras in the present. In half a day you will cycle through “Europe” and the cosmopolitan vibe of Potsdam created by Frederick the Great, known as Old Fritz. You will experience important stops on your tour including Charlottenhof Palace, New Palace, Sanssouci Palace, Russian Colony Alexandrovka, Cecilienhof Palace and the Dutch Quarter. Afterwards, just refuel in the historic restaurant Drachenhaus, close to the Orangery Palace.

The panoramic bike tour offers the most beautiful views and vistas of Potsdam and its garden art of Hermann Fürst von Pückler-Muskau. As you experience the restored bubbling fountains of the Babelsberg Park you can still feel Pückler’s heartbeat. The deliberately staged vistas are particularly charming and best experienced from the Belvedere on the Pfingstberg, which also allows you to get the best view of Potsdam’s famous palace and garden landscape.

During the tour you will take in historic places such as the Dutch Quarter, the Russian Colony Alexandrovka, Cecilienhof Palace and the Glienicke Bridge.

TIP
The bike tour around lake Templiner See proves that culture and nature go hand in hand in Potsdam. The ideal starting point is the Old Market. From the dome of the St Nicholas’ Church you will get a wonderful view of the cityscape. You will also be able to see how closely Potsdam is connected to the river Havel and its lakes. As you continue towards Caputh, you could take a small detour to Einstein’s summer house and Caputh Palace. Einstein enjoyed his summers here for a reason! Before you go to Geltow, take a break on the terrace of restaurant Chelinet. The bike path along the banks of the river Havel will bring you back to the city centre of Potsdam.
